4. Foreign Exchange

4.1 What is a foreign exchange contract?

A foreign exchange contract or a foreign exchange transaction is a financial transaction where one currency is sold and another currency is purchased at an agreed exchange rate. It is important that you understand how foreign exchange transactions work.

Currency Exchange Orders are undertaken pursuant to foreign exchange contracts and where you and Wise agree to exchange one currency for another after the amount to be exchanged and the Currency Exchange Fee have arrived to our bank account. A new foreign exchange contract will be entered into for each Currency Exchange Order that you do with us.

When we make a Currency Exchange Order from one currency to another, we offer an over-the-counter (“OTC”) foreign exchange contract, which means that foreign currencies we are exchanging to you are not traded on a licensed financial market (such as a stock exchange).

Other foreign exchange service providers may offer foreign exchange products and services with differing features, benefits and risks and may have very different methods for quoting prices and charging fees. When comparing products, you should consider carefully whether the product is suitable for you and ensure you understand the total cost of the product to determine if it is the best outcome for you.

4.2 Variables

Wise is offering foreign exchange contracts. When you make a Currency Exchange Order for a foreign exchange contract, we will make our best efforts to exchange your money and send it to the recipient within two business days from the time your deposit reaches our bank account. However, in some cases it may take longer than two business days. We will do our best to avoid any delay.

We will use the mid-market exchange rate valid at the time you create your Currency Exchange Order as long as we receive all of the money during the guarantee period notified to you when you set up your transfer. There are several variables, which will be agreed upon entering into a foreign exchange contract. Those variables include:

- the denomination and amount of the Source Currency;
- the denomination and amount of the Target Currency;

- the exchange rate;
- the settlement date; and
- fees applicable to the foreign exchange contract.

There are more details about the last three variables for foreign exchanges contracts below.

4.3 Exchange rate

Wise will quote you a mid-market exchange rate, which we refer to as the “Guaranteed Exchange Rate”, confirm the guaranteed time period (“Guarantee Period”) and confirm the Currency Exchange Fees at the time you create a Currency Exchange Order. The mid-market rates we use are obtained from independent third-party service provider(s). For some currencies, we cannot use the mid-market exchange rate or provide a Guaranteed Exchange Rate as we are required to use a different reference rate for the exchange rate for your currency pair. For example, for transfers to Nigeria (NGN), we are required to use the rate set by the Central Bank of Nigeria. For these currencies we will notify you of the reference rate used for the exchange rate when you place your Currency Exchange Order and confirm the exchange rate when we have exchanged your Source Currency.

During times of extreme market volatility in foreign exchange rates, we may suspend our offer of a Guaranteed Exchange Rate and instead offer you the mid-market rate at the time of conversion.

We will let you know your exchange rate: (a) when you place your Currency Exchange Order, if it is a guaranteed rate Currency Exchange Order; or (b) when we have exchanged your Source Currency into the Target Currency, if it is a non-guaranteed rate Currency Exchange Order.

Please refer to section 5 below (Keys Risks Associated with the Service) for more information about foreign exchange risk.

4.4 Additional conditions for guaranteed rates

We will let you know the Guaranteed Exchange Rate at the time when you set up your Currency Exchange Order. As long as we hold or receive sufficient money from you in your Wise Account during the relevant Guaranteed Period (described on the Guaranteed Rate page), we will exchange your money using that guaranteed rate.

If we do not receive sufficient money from you during the Guaranteed Period, we will not be able to exchange your money using the guaranteed rate. The rate used for your Currency Exchange Order will be the exchange rate at the time of receiving your money (“Effective rate”).

If the relevant mid-market rate (as provided by our reference exchange rate provider) changes by 5% or more during the Guaranteed Period, we can, at our option, suspend your payment for a reasonable period of time or cancel the Currency Exchange Order and refund the money to you.

4.5 Rate limits

A rate limit is the maximum percentage of negative change to the exchange rate which you authorise us to exchange your money.

When creating a guaranteed rate transfer, you're subject to a rate limit of 5%. This means that if, in the time between transfer creation and Wise receiving your money, the rate drops by 5% or more, we reserve the right to cancel and refund your transfer back to the account the money reached us from.

4.6 Comparing exchange rates

Different service providers offer different exchange rates. Therefore it is reasonable to compare the rates offered by different service providers. Wise cannot guarantee the best rate available on the market, but we endeavour to provide rates that are competitive.

There are different types of foreign exchange contracts available on the market. Therefore when you are comparing exchange rates, you should ensure that you are comparing the exchange rates of the exchange contracts of the same type. In addition to the exchange rate, you should compare other terms of the foreign exchange contracts (including fees, settlement dates, responsibilities, etc).

4.7 Speculative trading

Please note that we are not a currency trading platform. You must not use our Services for currency trading or related purposes. This includes unethical behaviour such as sending us multiple guaranteed rate Currency Exchange Orders without the intention of completing all the Currency Exchange Orders. If we detect that you are using our Services for this purpose, we may, at our option, set a limit on the number of guaranteed Currency Exchange Orders you may send to us or suspend or terminate your Wise Account.

4.8 Settlement date

Usually the foreign exchange contracts offered by Wise will be settled within two business days after you have created the Currency Exchange Order and transferred the necessary amount of money to your Wise Account.

The settlement date will vary depending on such factors as:

- time taken to complete know-your-customer and anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing procedures;
- time elapsed between when you create your Currency Exchange Order and your money is received into your Wise Account (including the currency to be exchanged and Currency Exchange Fee payable to us);
- time taken to complete the matching process and/or conversion and any conversion stops due to triggering of rate limit; and
- time taken for the payment from our bank to reach your recipient's bank account (the banking system in the destination country, processing time by the banks involved, and any public holidays), if applicable.

However, it may take less than two business days to complete your Currency Exchange Order and our intention is to exchange your money as soon as possible.

To avoid a delay we recommend you transfer the money to the Wise account immediately after the Currency Exchange Order is created. You also may wish to contact your bank to ensure that they transfer the money without unreasonable delay.

Before using our Services you must make yourself familiar with our Customer Agreement, Wise Card Supplement and the Privacy Policy and ensure that you understand your risks and responsibilities within these documents.

5.1 Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange rates fluctuate all the time. Consistent with market conditions, the prices of our Services may be volatile and fluctuate rapidly over wide ranges. Due to the exchange rate fluctuations you may not receive the predicted amount of the foreign currency. It is also possible that the exchange rate improves after we have exchanged your currency. In addition, there are foreign exchange risks associated with maintaining balances in multiple currencies. The exchange rates of the currencies you hold will fluctuate over time and you will not receive the benefit of such fluctuations unless you exchange the currency in your Wise Account.

Exchange rates are affected by many different events and influences, so they may change rapidly and unpredictably. Such fluctuations may be caused, but are not limited to, monetary policy of a central banks or other official institutions, announcements and forecasts made by any government institution or other organisation, changes in economic situation, transactions made by other market participants, embargoes, wars and natural disasters.

When you create a Currency Exchange Order with us, we will provide you with a Guaranteed Exchange Rate except in the circumstances set out in section 4.3 of this PDS. If we do not receive all of your funds in your Wise Account during the Guaranteed Period, the money will be exchanged using the Effective Rate when all funds are received.

If one of the currency balances in your account becomes negative, we will divert funds from any positive currency balance in your account to make up the negative balance before allowing you to withdraw funds.

5.2 Over The Counter (“OTC”) Risk

The foreign exchange contracts provided by Wise are OTC products. This means that they are not traded on a licensed financial market under section 767A of the Corporations Act such as an exchange. Therefore, by trading in OTC foreign exchange contracts with us you will not have the benefit of some of the advantages of trading on a licensed market, such as having a central clearing house to guarantee our obligations to you.

5.3 Counterparty and credit risk

Counterparty risk is the risk that another party may default on their contractual obligations. In the event of a default due to bankruptcy, fraud, or liquidation of a company you may recover less than the amounts owing to you. When you use our Services, you have a counterparty risk with Wise and we have performance obligations to you. Your counterparty risk with us is the risk that we may become unable to meet our obligations to you at the time they fall due.

This risk is mitigated by:

- Wise generally hedges our foreign exchange exposures. We also try to minimise the financial risk associated with Currency Exchange Orders by matching volume from buyers and sellers and receiving transaction amounts from clients before executing foreign exchange contracts;
- we hold your money with authorised deposit-taking institutions or is invested in eligible liquid assets allowed under our PPF licence;
- we are licensed by the APRA as a limited authorised deposit-taking institution that provides purchased payment facilities; and
- we aim to exchange and transfer funds within a short period of time.

The Wise Account is not covered by the Australian Financial Claims Scheme.

5.4 Operational risk

Operational risk is the risk of delay or loss resulting from inadequate or failed technological systems, internal processes or external events. We make our best efforts to avoid any problems caused due to technical or administrative reasons, but such problems may still occur.

We are making our best efforts to make our Services available at any time and accessible from different locations. However we cannot totally exclude the possibility that the access to the Wise application and to our Services will not be interrupted or restricted.

Unfortunately there are still some risks related to processing your transactions/instructions and communicating through the internet. Such risks include, but are not limited to, software errors and bugs, problems with internet access and data transfers, interrupted service, security breaches and other faults.

5.5 Risk of Unauthorised transactions

There is a risk your Wise Account may be compromised and subject to an account takeover, unauthorised transaction or other type of fraudulent activity. You are responsible for losses arising from an unauthorised transaction where we can prove, on the balance of probability, that you contributed to a loss through fraud or breaching our password and PIN security requirements. You will be liable in full for the actual losses that occur before the loss, theft or misuse of a security key or breach of password or PIN security is reported to us.

We are using advanced technologies in order to limit the risk of unauthorised transactions. For instance, communication between you and the Wise application is protected by SSL encryption. In addition we have implemented measures to avoid unauthorised access to our electronic systems and your data processed by us.

5.6 Risk of Inability to recover owed funds

There is a risk you may not receive your payment where you owe any amount to us when you receive a Pay-in. Events that could lead to us not receiving a Pay-in in full include:

- the funds received being later invalidated for any reason;
- the funds received being subject to a chargeback;
- a reversal occurring;
- our determination under the Customer Agreement that the funds received should be returned or reversed.; or
- us paying all or part of the Pay-in to reduce the amount owing by you to us.

If you owe any amount to us, you agree to allow the recovery of these amounts by debiting your Wise Account promptly if we reasonably believe that payment will not be received in full for any reason. If there are insufficient funds in your account to cover any amount you owe us, the amount becomes immediately due and payable. You authorise us to satisfy any such monetary liability to us which is notified to you by:

- debiting your account at a later date;
- debiting your selected payment method;
- setting off the credit balance of any account you have with us or any monetary liability we owe you in and towards satisfaction of your monetary liability to us;
- demand repayment from you using other methods; or
- any other legal means.

5.7 Holds on funds, account limitation and account closure

Your Wise Account and funds in it may be subject to a hold, release amount, reserve, limitation or closure for a variety of reasons, including:

- if your Wise Account is associated with another Wise Account which has been limited, is not in good standing or poses a risk to the integrity, security or reliability of us or our systems;
- if we believe your personal Wise Account is being used in connection with a business we may suspend it or require you to upgrade to a business account;
- our requirements to prove your identity in accordance with Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing (AML) laws;
- suspected fraud;
- sudden changes in the amount or number of transactions;
- we need to ensure the integrity of a transaction;
- we believe that there's a risk associated with you or your Wise Account;
- you receive a dispute, claim, chargeback or reversal in relation to any funds received into your Wise Account; or

- breaches of our Customer Agreement, Privacy Policy or any other policy or agreement you have entered into with us relating to our Services.

5.8 Key Risks associated with the Card

Significant risks to cardholders are:

- The Card will expire at the date shown on the front of the Card. You cannot withdraw funds from your Wise Account using the Card if the Card has expired.
- Unauthorised transactions can happen using the Card if it is lost or stolen, a personal identification number (“PIN”) is revealed to any other person, or as a result of fraud.
- Unintended transactions can happen if electronic equipment with which the Card is being used is operated incorrectly or incorrect details are input.
- You might not be able to get your funds back if unauthorised transactions or unintended transactions occur.
- If the electronic network enabling the use of the Card is unavailable, you may not be able to undertake transactions or get information using the Card.
- Your Card could be lost, destroyed or stolen.

6. Fees and other costs

This section outlines fees and other costs associated with your Wise Account.

We will let you know if this fee is applicable when you set up your order. You can also find out more information about the fees we charge here and on the Pricing page.

Wise may offer lower prices to specific customers or groups of customers as a discount, promotion or customer recognition program.

The fees (a fixed and variable fee) vary depending on the size of the Currency Exchange Order, the source and destination currencies and countries, the payment process available in the destination country, and the method you choose to fund your Wise Account. The fees will be disclosed to you on our Pricing page and you accept the fee once you decide to proceed with your Currency Exchange Order.

The fee will accrue daily and will be charged to your account at the end of each month. Please refer to the balance fee page for the current fee. Customers will have a grace period of 3 days from the time when they first exceed the free allowance before the fee starts to accrue.
Wise Card – initial card order fee and card replacement fee	Wise charges a one-time card order fee. This fee is payable at the time you order a Card for your Multi-currency account. A card replacement fee will be charged if you need to replace your Card. We do not charge any annual fees for the Card. Please refer to our card pricing page for the current card order and replacement fee.
Wise Card - Conversion Fee	Wise charges a transaction fee for every withdrawal or payment using the Card where a currency is converted (“Conversion Fee”). 6.2 Foreign currency exchange example

In this example, $4,000 AUD is transferred to your Wise Account from your bank account in Australia (not from a credit card) to be exchanged into GBP.

Please note that the details of your foreign exchange contract may depend on different circumstances including, but not limited to, market fluctuations.

Amount of Source Currency you use to fund:	$4000.00 AUD
Currency Exchange Fixed Fee:	$0.66 AUD
Currency Exchange Variable Fee ² :	0.45% = $17.99 AUD
Dynamic charge, if applicable:	0.05% = $2.00 AUD

² If applicable. See section 6.1 Fees and charges.

Amount of currency to be exchanged:	$3979.35 AUD
Guaranteed Rate:	0.528237
Recipient receives (Target Currency):	£2102.04 GBP

In the example above, where all money is received in the Guarantee Period, the Guaranteed Rate, when creating the Currency Exchange Order, is the mid-market rate at the time when the Currency Exchange Order is created.

Market fluctuations do not influence the Currency Exchange Fees (because they are determined by reference to the amount of the Source Currency). Please refer to section 5 for more details on exchange rate risks.

6.3 Card example

For a payment in the same currency held on your Wise Account, there is no Conversion Fee. The merchant or the ATM operator may charge additional fees and those fees or charges are not imposed by Wise.

For a payment or withdrawal in a currency not held on your Wise Account, Wise will convert the currency and deduct from the currency balance that has the cheaper Conversion Fee. For current rates, see the Pricing page.

In this example you withdraw from your Wise Account using the Card where you do not have a GBP balance in your Wise Account. In this example, the withdrawal is for £100 GBP.

Amount of withdrawal and Target Currency:	£100.00 GBP
Mid-market exchange rate:	0.528198
Amount of currency to be exchanged:	$189.32 AUD
Currency Exchange Variable Fee:	0.44% = 0.83 AUD
Amount deducted from your Wise Account:	$190.15 AUD

In the example above, the merchant or the ATM operator may also charge additional fees. Such fees or charges are not imposed by Wise. Please note that the details of your payment or withdrawal may depend on different circumstances including, but not limited to, ATM transaction fees, ATM operator fees, or merchant fees.

If you are making a payment or withdrawal in a currency other than a currency that is not supported by Wise, we will convert your balance to USD and charge a Conversion Fee. The amount will then be converted using the Mastercard foreign exchange rate. For more information on Mastercard rates, please see their website.

6.4 Additional Card Fees

If you're spending online the seller might charge their own conversion fee. This could happen even if you have the other currency in your Wise Account. To avoid this, ask the seller to bill you in the currency you want.

To avoid extra fees from an ATM withdrawal, be sure to choose the local currency where the ATM is located. For example, if you are in Italy, choose EUR as the currency to be charged in. This will stop the ATM from marking up the currency exchange rate.

6.5 Tax considerations

If you use our Services and enter into Currency Exchange Orders with Wise, you may be subject to taxation. The taxation implications of your transactions will depend on your own individual circumstances (including the purpose or nature of the relevant transfer of funds) and Wise recommends that you obtain independent professional taxation advice on the full range of taxation implications applicable to your own personal facts and circumstances.

We do not advise you of any taxation issues as well as of any possible changes in taxation laws should they occur. You must take full responsibility for the taxation implications arising from your transactions, and any changes in those taxation implications
